Academic Appointments while at Saint Louis University

1. Tenured Professor of Health Care Ethics (tenure granted July 2003), St. Louis University Center for Healthcare Ethics, Salus Building, 3545 Lafayette Avenue, St. Louis, MO, 63104. Since August 1996. Taught courses and mentored dissertations for the Department of Health Care Ethics. Course Director for required ethics courses and ethics electives at SLU School of Medicine.
2. Secondary Appointment, Department of Surgery, Emergency Medicine Division, Saint Louis University Health Sciences Center, 3635 Vista, Saint Louis, MO, 63110. Since May 1998. Served as an attending physician in the emergency department until focusing on full-time teaching in 2001.

Major Responsibilities while at Saint Louis University

1. Ph.D. Teaching and Mentoring. I taught several courses in the Ph.D. Program in Health Care Ethics, including "Methods in Philosophical Ethics," "Medicine for Ethicists," "Ethics in Health Care Reform," "Gerontology and Ethics," and various graduate reading courses. I co-directed the Plenary Mentoring sessions for doctoral students in course work, conducted individual mentoring for Ph.D. candidates, and was involved in the direction and evaluation of dissertations and comprehensive exams. I also served on the Admissions Committee for the Ph.D. program, the Interdisciplinary Faculty Executive Committee, the Faculty Advisory Board for the Center for Teaching Excellence (CTE), the Technology Subcommittee for CTE, and the Graduate Council.
2. Academic Research. I have published three books and over 100 essays, reviews, editorials and other articles in the medical, bioethics and popular literature. I have presented at several major bioethics, philosophy and medical meetings, including the annual meetings of the American Society for Bioethics and Humanities, the Association for Practical and Professional Ethics, the American Public Health Association, and the American Philosophical Association. I am on the editorial board for four major bioethics journals and serve as a reviewer for several bioethics and medical journals. I was co-chair, along with Felicia Cohn, of the Program Committee for the 7th Annual Meeting of the American Society of Bioethics and Humanities in Fall of 2004.
3. Director, Clinical Consultation Program, Center for Health Care Ethics. Duties involved clinical ethics consultation at Saint Louis University and occasional consultation for other client hospitals. I was a member of the Hospital Ethics Committee at Saint Louis University Hospital. I also coordinated on-site clinical ethics activities for students in the Ph.D. Program in Health Care Ethics.
4. Medical Students' Ethics Education, Saint Louis University School of Medicine. I directed the ethics unit of the Patient, Physician and Society course since 1998 (with the exception of 2001-20002). I directed the medical students' 4th year elective reading courses in bioethics and I was the faculty advisor for the Medical Students' Ethics Interest Group. I also regularly served as a faculty liaison during Freshman Medical Student Orientation week.
5. Public Health Ethics Education, Saint Louis University School of Public Health. In 2005 and 2006, I directed the ethics course for masters degree students in the St. Louis University School of Public Health (CMHC 502) and lectured in this course in several prior semesters.
6. CHCE Director, Residents' Ethics Education Programs, Saint Louis University Health Sciences Center and Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital (Pulmonology and Critical Care Medicine, Neurology, Emergency Medicine and Trauma, Cardiothoracic Surgery, Psychiatry, Pediatrics, Orthopedics and Ophthalmology). This involved the formulation of ethics curriculum and coordination of ethics lecture series and ethics case studies for various residency programs affiliated with Saint Louis University. In addition, I conducted regular (monthly) ethics teaching rounds in the medical ICU. I presented at Grand Rounds for Trauma, Cardiothoracic Surgery, and Orthopedic Surgery, Internal Medicine, and Ophthalmology.

7. Other Academic Teaching and Mentoring. I lectured in several other medical student courses (such as "Genetics" and "Death and Dying") where ethical issues are part of the subject matter. I have also been involved in ethics teaching of health care executive students, public health students, physician assistant students, dieticians, physical therapy students, social work students and research scientists. I was one of the course faculty for the Certificate Program in Biomedical Ethics, previously offered through Center for Health Care Ethics at Saint Louis University.
8. Public Service and Education in Biomedical Ethics and Disaster Medicine. I have consulted with numerous hospitals nationwide, and the state government of Kansas, about improving disaster response. I was a member of a ten-person committee appointed by the National Council on Radiation Protections and Measurements (NCRP) to provide guidance to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) on "Radiation Protection and Science Goals for Short-Term Lunar Missions" (SC-15) and was also part of another NCRP committee (SC-13) that reported to NASA on general aspects of radiation protection. I consult on and review biological warfare studies for the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID) at Fort Detrick, Maryland. I have served on the national Bioterrorism Review Committee for the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ). I have lectured at conferences sponsored by national organizations including the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), the Friends Research Institute (FRI), and the Office of Human Research Protections (OHRP). In the summer of 2005, I was plenary speaker at the Illinois Bioterrorism Summit in Chicago, Illinois. On February 10, 2000, I testified before the U.S. House of Representatives Oversight and Investigation Subcommittee (of the Commerce Committee) on clinical and ethical issues pertaining to the reprocessing and reuse of single-use medical devices. I served as a member of a national expert panel on ethical issues in innovative surgery, sponsored by the Greenwall Foundation. I served on an Observational Study Monitoring Board (OSMB) for a study on Long QT Syndrome, conducted at the University of Arizona. I have lectured for several community health care organizations, civic groups and churches. I have consulted and participated in community projects such as "CARE Fare," which provides medical information and service to under-served neighborhoods in Saint Louis. I have provided ethics commentary for a variety of newspaper, news magazine, radio and television journalists, and consultation for local and national policy makers and attorneys.
9. Hospital Service. These activities include service on the Hospital Ethics Committee and the Decontamination Task Force for Saint Louis University Hospital, seven years service on the SLUCare Mission and Identity Task Force, and two years of service on the Saint Louis University Institutional Review Board. While serving on the IRB, I wrote a policy statement on the inclusion of women in research, and redesigned the model pregnancy statement for informed consent forms. My work on the Mission and Identity Task Force has included service on the Subcommittees for (1) Business, Clinical Practices and Values, and (2) Ethical and Religious Directives Education.

10. Emergency Physician. 1998-2001, I served as an attending physician in the Emergency Center at Saint Louis University Health Sciences Center. We are a Level I trauma center with high volume and a very high level of acuity. In addition to patient care, my responsibilities included clinical education of medical students and residents who rotate through the Emergency Center.
