FINANCING YOUR Education

What follows is a guide to the financial aid process at SLU. It is arranged in three parts: an introduction to the types of financial aid, an explanation of costs and how to pay your remaining balance, and instructions for accepting and confirming your financial aid offer.

What Will It Cost to Attend Saint Louis University?

When budgeting for your education, it is important to take into consideration both billed costs and other common expenses; refer to page 3 for more information.

Financing Your SLU Education

Graduate and professional students can finance their education using a variety of resources, including scholarships, fellowships, assistantships, payment plans and federal or private loans. Refer to pages 4 and 5 to learn about different payment strategies and explore the federal loan programs that may be available to you.

Accepting and Confirming Your Financial Aid Offer

Once you read this guide and decide to attend Saint Louis University, you must accept and confirm your financial aid offer online. Completion of this step is required to secure any funds offered to you. Refer to pages 6 and 7 for complete instructions; a helpful financial aid checklist and timeline also are included.

WHAT WILL IT COST TO ATTEND Saint Louis University?

Your financial aid offer details an estimate of a student's average costs at Saint Louis University. This serves to help you plan and budget for your expenses.

Tuition: As a graduate/professional student, tuition is charged on a per-credit-hour or per-semester basis, depending on your program of study.

Room/Board: Be sure to budget the proper amount for living expenses, including rent and the cost of food.

Fees: These items represent charges not covered by tuition. Common fees include the University fee (provides funds for sponsored activities, events and services) and activity fee (provides funds for student organizations and campus programming).

Consider Additional Costs

Some costs may not be charged directly to your student account or may vary depending on individual needs. It is important to budget for these items as well.

Books: Books can be a significant cost. Depending upon your program of study and the number of credit hours for which you are enrolled, they could average as much as $1,000 per semester.

Transportation: Reasonable travel expenses include transportation to and from SLU, as well as transportation to and from your hometown for holidays and semester breaks.

Miscellaneous Expenses: Your program of study occasionally may require you to purchase specific items to complete your coursework. It is important to budget for these miscellaneous expenses.

Health Insurance: Saint Louis University requires that all full-time graduate/professional students carry health care insurance. Students with other coverage may waive the per semester charge by submitting a completed Health Insurance Waiver form and proof of other insurance to the Student Health and Counseling Center. You can complete the waiver online at aetnastudenthealth.com.

Budget Wisely

To ensure that you live a student's lifestyle now rather than after graduation, careful budgeting is important, especially if you are borrowing funds to cover the cost of tuition and/or living expenses. FINANCING YOUR SLU Education

Continuing your education is a significant investment, and there are several options to help you finance your educational costs.

Scholarships, Fellowships and Assistantships

Saint Louis University offers a variety of scholarships, fellowships and assistantships to students — each specific program determines the criteria and recipients for each offer. For more information, contact the academic department for your program of study.

It also is important to search for scholarships not affiliated with Saint Louis University. Some corporations, employers, churches and other organizations provide funds to graduate or professional students, and free scholarship database websites are available to search for these programs. You can even narrow your search using criteria such as race, ethnicity, program of study, hobbies and interests. Helpful websites include:

Payment Plans

SLU offers several payment plans to assist you in financing your education. Typical options include paying your balance in full each semester or paying your balance in up to five monthly installments to make your payments more manageable.

You must enroll in a payment plan or pay your balance in full by Aug. 1 for the fall semester or Jan. 1 for the spring semester. For detailed information, visit slu.edu/financial-aid/paying-your-bill.

Loans

Loans are borrowed funds that must be repaid. Many graduate and professional students take advantage of loans to help finance their education, as well as their living expenses. Borrowing options typically are divided into two categories: federal student loans and alternative loans. Refer to page 5 for more information.

Next Steps

Complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN) and entrance counseling.

All students wishing to borrow from the federal loan program(s) must complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN) — an agreement between the borrower and lender of your loan. For more information about completing the MPN and entrance counseling, please visit slu.edu/financial-aid/types-of-aid/student-loan-information.php. To complete the MPN and entrance counseling for a federal direct loan, visit studentaid.gov. To apply for a Graduate Plus Loan and to complete the MPN, visit studentaid.gov.

Borrow Wisely

Loans can help make your investment in yourself a reality. While borrowing can be a viable option, it is recommended that you borrow minimally. To determine how much you should borrow or what your loan repayment obligations may be, visit studentaid.gov/loan-simulator/. For more information about financial literacy, visit our online financial education center at slu.edu/financial-aid/online-financial-education-center.
